In 1981 I fought an interfaith custody battle that was covered in the world's press. As is shown on my page about Hitler and the Vatican, I used 1933 New York Times press extracts about the Concordat between the Vatican and Hitler as ammunition to coerce the Vatican to annul the baptism of my older son; which was conducted against his will and mine at a time that I had joint custody of the boy, who is now an Orthodox rabbi. The New York Times covered my son's story on September 22, 1981, but what they and all other new organizations didn't know was how I had procured the one of a kind annulment. They knew the contents of the letter of annulment signed by Archbishop McCarthy of Miami, but they didn't know about the Release from Liability that I signed it in exchange for the letter, which led to my acquiring what was effectively full custody of my son.

It was at this time, while conducting extensive research into the history of the Holocaust as I perused microfilm copies of the New York Times at the Florida International University Library, I came across an April 27, 1945 article (dated April 26, 1945) entitled Hitler Imitator Reported Ready to Die in His Place. I followed the story via the New York Times out as far as 1949. Briefly, a former grocer, August Wilhelm Bartholdi was a double for Hitler, was poised to "die on the barricades" while the real Hitler escaped. Two days later (just after midnight on April 29, 1945) Hitler married Eva Braun. Germany had time to prepare the Hitler swap, whether by switching dental records or drilling Bartholdi's mouth to match Hitler's. But they didn't have time to properly prepare a duplicate for his bride. The following day (April 30, 1945) was the alleged suicide. Russian troops found two bodies burned beyond recognition. They were supposed to be Hitler and Eva Braun. Later we learned that there was a match with Hitler's dental records. But once in my life I heard (but could never confirm) that the female corpse found did not have a match with Eva Braun's dental records, however this aspect of the story does not match what Wikipedia writes. They indicate that, "by 11 May 1945, the Soviets had already had Hitler's dentist, Hugo Blaschke, and his dental technician confirm the dental remains found were Hitler's and Braun's .^[64]

When the American troops arrived in Berlin they questioned the staff. All, except for two, said that it was Hitler who had died, but the New York Times reported that the maid and the chauffeur claimed it was the cook. However as I recall no name was given for the cook and it was unclear as to whether he was Bartholdi. By July of 1945 the Times was writing about unaccounted for U-boats that might be carrying Hitler, and by August of 1945 there were stories of U-977 being searched by U.S. Marines in Buenos Aires, Argentina. There was also a story of people seeing what looked like Hitler and Eva Braun coming ashore from U-944 elsewhere in Argentina, with them heading for Patagonia.

On October 7, 1945 on page 10 an article appeared in the New York Times entitled Hitler Believed Alive, Eisenhower Tells Dutch. He never recanted it. Over the next four years the Times covered a ruling that Hitler could not be proven dead for purposes of dividing his estate, and that a former Luftwaffe pilot (Peter Baumgart) had flown Hitler out of Berlin after he was reported to be dead. All of this was only of intellectual curiosity for me until I read in a now defunct newspaper, the Miami Times, about a U-boat (Sharkhunters) convention at the Holiday Inn Hotel in Key Largo, Florida.

This was only about 25 miles from my home in Homestead, Florida. So I called the hotel and asked who was running the convention. The answer was, I thought, perfect. It wasn't a German. Rather it was an American historian named Harry Cooper.

Harry listened to my summary of events, and promised to call me back later in the day if he could learn anything from the German submariners. He didn't return the call - not then anyway. But about two months later he did call back when the convention was long over, and when I had forgotten who he was. After refreshing my memory he informed me that he had learned that U-944 did indeed carry Hitler to Argentina. He put me on his mailing list (which, as a Coast Guard officer, I didn't want since it meant that I was having Nazi literature mailed to my home, something that might affect my security clearance). He wanted me, a Jew, to join the group! And then, even better, he tried to convince me to travel to Argentina where he was going to dive at a U-boat wreck. This was at a time that General Galtieri was ruling the country. He was a guy who was, in his head, still fighting World War 2 because he actually went to war with (and lost to) England when he invaded the Falkland Islands on April 2, 1982. Argentina's nuclear power program was headed by Hitler's prime bomb maker, and of course the Israelis had found Adolf Eichmann hiding there, captured him, and brought him back to Israel where they tried and executed him. Although Harry Cooper is probably no more than an ambitious historian, I figured it was probably best to judge him based on his friends, and they were clearly German (and possibly Nazi) military men. As such, I passed on the chance to learn more about his friends under the watch of General Galtieri.

President Eisenhower's Last Words in Office

Now this conjunction of an immense military establishment and a large arms industry is new in the American experience. The total influence—economic, political, even spiritual—is felt in every city, every Statehouse, every office of the Federal government. We recognize the imperative need for this development. Yet, we must not fail to comprehend its grave implications. Our toil, resources, and livelihood are all involved. So is the very structure of our society.

In the councils of government, we must guard against the acquisition of unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military-industrial complex. The potential for the disastrous rise of misplaced power exists and will persist. We must never let the weight of this combination endanger our liberties or democratic processes. We should take nothing for granted. Only an alert and knowledgeable citizenry can compel the proper meshing of the huge industrial and military machinery of defense with our peaceful methods and goals, so that security and liberty may prosper together.^[1]

1. With reference to the information submitted by Station Caracas concerning the alleged report that Adolf HITLER is still alive, the files of the Base contain similar information received from the same source, who resides in Maracaibo.
2. An undated memorandum, believed to have been written in about mid February 1954, reflects that Phillip CITROEN, who was co-owner of the former Maracaibo Times, told a former member of this Base that while he was working for a railroad company in Colombia, he had met an individual who strongly resembled and claimed to be Adolf HITLER. CITROEN claimed to have met this individual at a place called "Residencias Coloniales" in Tunja, (Boyaca), Colombia, which is, according to the source, overly populated with former German Nazis. According to CITROEN, the Germans residing in Tunja follow this alleged Adolf HITLER with an "idolatry of the Nazi past, addressing him as 'der Fuhrer' and affording him the Nazi salute and storm-trooper adulation".
3. CITROEN also showed the member of this office a photograph which was taken in Colombia of himself standing next to the alleged HITLER. This photograph was borrowed for a few hours to be reproduced, but unfortunately the negatives were too poor to make copies from. The original was returned to its owner and could not be easily obtained again. Because of this and the apparent fantasy of the report, the information was not submitted at the time it was received.
4. Phillip CITROEN resides in Maracaibo with his brother, Francois, and is reported to be employed with a Dutch steamship company. Francois formerly worked for the Maracaibo Herald, and about two years ago he went into partnership with his brother Phillip and Alexander van DOBBEN, the Dutch Consul in Maracaibo as publishers of an English language newspaper, the Maracaibo Times, which is still in circulation. There is no biographical information presently available on Phillip or Francois CITROEN.

How did Hitler really die?

By HANNAH BROWN 12/29/2012 20:25

A new documentary claims the Nazi leader did not commit suicide in his bunker towards the end of WWII.

Revealed: Hitler in Argentina (Revealed) Share More info

He was looking the same. Short hair, white, cut in a military style

Did Hitler really commit suicide, or did he escape with his wife to Argentina on U-944; and was the body found really that of his double - August Wilhelm Bartholdi?

METEORITE TIMELINE SOOKE AND VICTORIA TO WUHAN CHINA

There is a daily ferry (Victoria Clipper) that connects Victoria to Seattle. The first major U.S. outbreak was in a suburb of Seattle where at least 22 people died at the Life Care Center of Kirkland.

Unknowns: (1) Specifics of contacts between Craig and Elon Musk.

(2) The name of a geologist who provided early help to Craig.

Assumed: The meteorite was not stolen from Wickramasinghe. Rather he gave or sold it to his Chinese partner, Qu, who took it to Tianjin and from there to Wuhan.

The first possibly virus-infected meteorite was found on March 1, 2018 in waters off Sooke. B.C., Canada

A meteorite sample was first shipped by the owner (Craig) to Dr. Wickramasinghe in the UK on June 19, 2018.

Dr. Elaine Humphrey was first contacted by Craig on October 20, 2018.

On October 23, 2018 VIROLOGY: CURRENT RESEARCH received an article by Wickramasinghe and Jiangwen Qu of the Tianjin Infectious Disease Control Center entitled ARE WE APPROACHING A NEW INFLUENZA PANDEMIC?

Dr. Jerzy Sawicki, also at the University of Victoria, received his first samples of the meteorite from Dr. Humphrey for Mossbauer analysis on April 10, 2019.

May 17, 2019: Dr. Humphrey writes Wickramasinghe asking what happened to his samples sent by Craig.

May 20, 2019: Wickramasinghe writes back to Dr. Humphrey claiming that the samples were stolen from his Sri Lanka home.

August 6, 2019: Elon Musk makes a mysterious appearance in Metchosin B.C, close to the meteorite's storage site in Sooke.

August 10, 2019: Without a budget, Dr. Sawicke quits the project.

October 11, 2019: Large meteor lights up northeast China.

November 25, 2019: Wickramasinghe & Qu predict a pandemic in the new few months. It starts on December 10, 2019.

January 21, 2020: Washington State announces a COVID-19 Pandemic.

January 26, 2020: Craig asks Barry Roffman for help with his project.

Faces in the Meteorite

Craig Ebrahimi found a special rock when diving underwater.

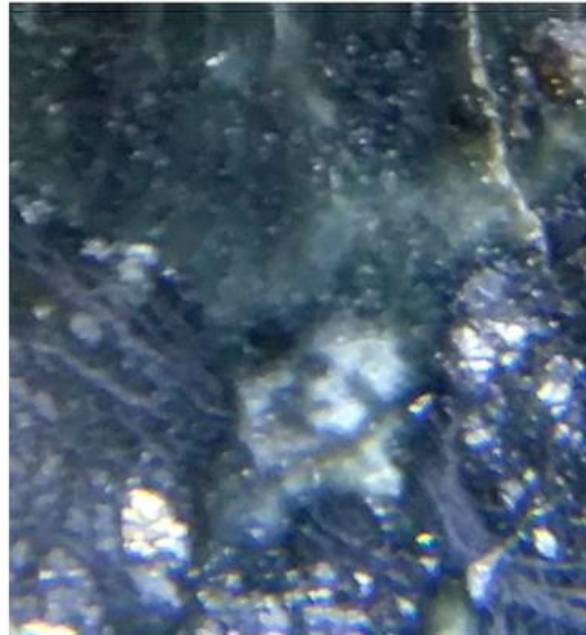

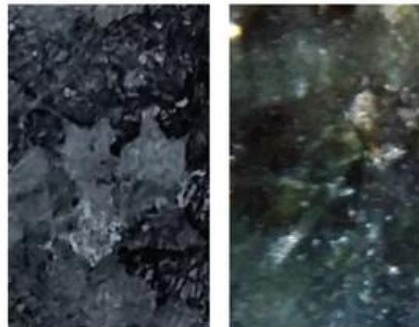

With a diamond saw, he took off the end to use for analysis and polished the face of the rock.

In order to prove it was a meteorite, he sent a sample to the prestigious Actlabs for analysis and it came back supporting that it is a meteorite. The oxygen isotopes came back as lunar origin.

It is a weird rock: the surface face takes heat away and is so cold, water condenses onto it; even after the rock has been in room temperature for months.

Looking closely with a hand lens, there are a surprising number of different faces in the grains of the rock.

Craig is the diver who recovered meteorites from Sooke Bay, Canada. One meteorite has inclusions like that shown on the right.

IS CRAIG HUMAN?

Craig Ebrahimi's body proportions seem to be out of the normal range but this could be due to the height and distance of the camera from his head vs. from his feet.

Subject: Police report non existent says local Cardiff authority

Dear Chandra

After receiving your emails to Dr Elaine Stating my family's scientific treasure samples have been stolen.

I decided to hire an investigation and contact Cardiff local authorities after months of investment and investigation

There has been no report or even a car break in your area.

So there is no report from PhD holding scientist regarding this statement you provided

That they we're stolen.

Sounds like bullshit

Since the beginning you never bothered even to investigate the EMBRYO quite shocking from a man promoting panspermia since the beginning of his career.

You said you're out on international travel business. You stated many times you are retired why many appearances on ancient aliens would not you have wanted to promote this scientific proof and you have access to a real fossil ET once again shocking. Oh ya I sent you one. Sounds like you're part of a cover up.

You really have no clue what I am capable of.

I recommend you start participateing while your still healthy

Craig's age is unknown but he claims that drugs he is taking are making him younger and stronger.

Craig shipped a meteorite sample to Dr. Wickramasinghe at the University of Buckingham in the U.K. on June 19, 2018. After examining it, he and Dr. Jiangwen Qu of the Infectious Disease Control Center in Tianjun, China publically predicted a plague for 2019.

Abstract

Over the past several months influenza activity has continued to increase in the temperate zones of the northern hemisphere and has led to a concern over global health and the impending prospect of another major pandemic. Based on a range of available evidence we argue that the current influenza situation might be related to the ongoing La Niña phenomenon accompanied by increased precipitation patterns in the Pacific. The four most recent human influenza pandemics (1918, 1957, 1968, and 2009) were preceded by La Niña conditions in the equatorial Pacific and almost all influenza pandemics in history fall within ± 1 year of sunspot extreme. Sunspot activity will reach its minimum in 2019. Therefore, a new influenza pandemic may well be imminent now, one hundred years after the 1918-1919 pandemic. It will therefore be prudent and timely to strengthen worldwide surveillance strategies and to prepare ourselves for a future emergency.

Humphrey waits until May 2019 to ask Wickramasinghe about Craig's rocks.

The second warning was published on November 25, 2019 – just 15 days before the first case of Wuhan Fever.

Abstract

→ In fact, new viral infections are predictable. In a letter entitled with "Space weather and pandemic warnings?" to Current Science published in November 2019, we explicitly reminded the world that new infective viruses are likely to emerge in the coming months during the lowest minimum of the sunspot cycle in over a hundred years, and that public health authorities must be vigilant and take necessary action⁶. The emergence of the 2019 Novel Coronavirus, in our view, confirms this prediction and highlights the urgency of taking appropriate precautions without further prevarication.

Subject: meteorite

Hi Chandra,

I have a client, Craig Ebrahimi, who brought in a meteorite. At first it looked like gabbro but the chemical analysis (by Act labs) proved to be a meteorite. I understand that he sent you thin samples, outside crust, a piece of the rock with a embryo in a white circle. I have a very small sample for sem and eds. Craig suggested that if you have finished with his samples, is it possible that you send them to me. Since I will be in the UK at the end of June for a month, I could pick them up.

Best wishes

Elaine

May 20, 2019: Wickramasinghe claims Craig's meteorite was stolen

Dear Elaine

Unfortunately, the meteorite package was left in a shed near our house and it appears to have been stolen. I do not have it anymore.

Sorry about this

PAREIDOLIA OR A REAL EMBRYO?

- Dr. Humphrey said, “All the grains of rock have faces in them. It’s fascinating, but I’m telling you it’s an illusion. It’s still an interesting rock, and the more we look at it, the more interesting it gets.”
- Pareidolia is the tendency to perceive a specific, often meaningful image in a random or ambiguous visual pattern.
- The Sooke meteorite poses two potential threats:
 - (1) It may be the source of COVID-19
 - (2) It’s touted as having multiple alien embryos. Even if not the COVID-19 source, it may still constitute a bio-hazard.

From Rhawn Joseph et al. (2019)

Life in space extends beyond viruses. These are puffballs (fungi) growing on Mars.

Sol 1145-left v Sol 1148-right). Comparing Sol 1145-left vs Sol 1148-right. Growth of fifteen Martian specimens over three days. Specimens labeled 1-5 and marked with red circles have increased in size. Those specified by arrows-Sol 1148-right-demarcate the emergence of ten new specimens which were not visible in Sol 1145-left photographed three days earlier by NASA/JPL. Differences in photo quality are secondary to changes in camera-closeup-focus by NASA. The majority of experts in fungi, lichens, geomorphology, and mineralogy agreed these are likely living specimens, i.e. fungi, puffballs. A DISPROVED alternate explanation is a strong wind uncovered hematite which had been buried beneath sand and dirt.

Photos taken by M.E.R. Opportunity. They were included as Figure 8 in Evidence of Life on Mars? by Joseph, Rhawn & Dass, Regina & Rizzo, Vincenzo & Cantasano, Nicola & Bianciardi, Giorgio. (Journal Of Astrobiology, 2019).
